JUNIOR SLEUTHS SOUGHT FOR SUMMER ENRICHMENT PROGRAM AT EIU

CHARLESTON – Eastern Illinois University is looking for junior sleuths.

Youngsters in grades one through six have the opportunity to be Sherlock Holmes by participating in this year's EIU Summer Youth Program. This themed summer review/enrichment program will allow children to use their investigative powers under the supervision of experienced classroom teachers and EIU student participants.

Individualized attention will be emphasized among students in curriculum areas such as reading, writing, mathematics, social studies, science and technology. Classes will be held in Buzzard Hall, located on EIU's campus, with access to the Buzzard computer labs. Campus field trips to nearby EIU science labs, displays and library resources also will take place.

Classes will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Thursday, June 17 through July 18, and the cost of the program is $30 per child. Space is limited and parents are advised to register their child(ren) as soon as possible.

To register and/or for information, contact Tim Croy at (217) 581-7890 or (217) 581-5728 or via e-mail at cftwc@eiu.edu.
